Medium

Hello,

After careful review of the details of the appeal, and the relevant account or post history, Medium's Trust & Safety team has concluded that it remains in violation of site policies and will not be restored.

We still see links and other indicators in the account and posts.

The decision at this time is final.

Thanks,
Trust & Safety

Hello,

After review of the account associated with this email address, Medium's Trust & Safety team has found it to be in violation of site policies (<https://medium.com/policy/medium-rules-30e5502c4eb4>), and it has been suspended.

---

Site policies prohibit accounts and posts that identify specific individuals for the purpose of targeted harassment or shaming, especially where doing so is likely to incite or foster further harassment, threats, and violence.

If you'd like to have the post reviewed for restoration, please remove all personally identifying information from it, including the names of specific individuals, communications, their place of business, or any other identifiable information, and email us when that has been completed.

Thanks,
Trust & Safety
