Dear Ms. Tuttle,

Thank you for your email. I understand the request for additional time in light of your recent appearance and do not oppose a reasonable extension in principle.

That said, a 30-day extension to February 20, 2026 would result in staggered deadlines, as other defendants have already been extended to February 6, 2026. In the interest of efficient case management and judicial economy, I believe a more limited, coordinated extension is appropriate.

Accordingly, I would consent to an extension for your clients to respond by February 11, 2026 (21 days from today), which provides adequate time for review while keeping the parties on a similar schedule.

Please let me know whether you agree to this proposed schedule.

Respectfully,

Jorden Hollingsworth
